H-P Awards Contract

By Robert E. Finneran
Managing Editor

The West Andover Industrial Park got its expected, but somewhat delayed nudge toward development this week with the awarding of a contract for construction of the first building for Hewlett-Packard.

Davidson Construction Co., of Manchester, N. H., was awarded the contract on Monday, according to officials at Hewlett-Packard, and was expected to begin moving toward the construction phase this week.

A building permit will be applied for, while construction equipment is moved on site, it was reported.

Estimated cost of the first building in the Arkwright-Boston industrial property, former Shattuck Farm land off River Road and Route 93, is $7,250,000.

The award of the contract followed closely the encouraging bids on the trunk line sewer connection which the town is to provide to the area. Bids opened last Thursday indicated the work could be done within the $2,500,000 provided by the annual town meeting in March of 1973.

Robert Danahy, in charge of construction for the medical-electronics plant, said a definite cost figure for the first of the seven buildings planned for the West Andover site, is not firm as yet, with company officials still examining some contingencies, the base bid, however, was $7,250,000.

As of Wednesday no building permit had been applied for by the contractors, a detail expected to be taken care of shortly.

Following the opening of bids on the sewer project last week, at which J. F. White Construction Co., of Boston, was the apparent low bidder, Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen noted that overall project appeared "on its way."

Greenberg was referring to the fact that the apparent low bidder submitted a proposal of $1,984,000 for the construction of the trunk sewer line, while the estimated cost of the project, according to consultants was set at $2,494,000.

An alternate bid, which would provide for larger pipe to accommodate the city of Lawrence with a river cross over from the filtration plant, was set at $2,059,000.

The bids are still under examination by the consultants and town officials. Second low bidder was J. D'Amico at $1,998,015 and alternate of $2,088,015. Salah and Pecci submitted proposals of $2,016,056 and $2,117,556.

Greenberg said that as soon as Hewlett-Packard awards the contract and provides the town with a firm commitment, then the town would proceed with

More than 6,000 Andover school children will be let out to play this week, but things will be anything but quiet in the school buildings they leave behind.

While there are no major renovation or building projects on the drawing boards for the summer months, there will be the usual summer maintenance tasks, and most likely, a remedy for the overcrowded Sanborn School library will be found by September.

Teachers and administrators have been at work for the past two years to establish systematic math and reading programs for grades kindergarten through 12, so those youngsters can be "tracked" much more carefully.

Those efforts will come to fruition this summer, according to Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert, so they can be put into use in the fall.

Some $30,000 has been set aside for such summer projects, and a group of teachers and administrators will be at work finishing up internal testing procedures for the curriculum.

Despite the possibility that two school committeemen may resign at the end of this month, Seifert said that some school business must transpire - namely personnel and bills. If George Olesen and John Lyons

Summer Delivery

In these days of Women's Lib, one could get in lots of trouble trying to describe what Carol Levinson is doing this summer. For instance is she a mail person, which doesn't sound right, and who would dare refer to her as a mail man. suffice it to say that Carol is a welcome summer addition to the Andover post office as the Andover High graduate prepares to enter the University of Vermont this fall.

Await Funding On Poms Building

The Recreation / Community Schools Committee met on June 10, at Stowe School for its regular monthly meeting. The committee discussed their agenda of items which included reports on the terms of committee members, committee communications, Cuba Street park expansion, department name change, the Sacred Heart property, the updating of the open space report, the summer program, and Poms Pond.

The items consuming most of the meeting time were first, the need to acquire new members for the committee to fill two vacancies from recent resignations. It was decided that each committee member should draw a list of interested persons. Current members are Doug Mitchell, Jim Flynn, Willis Gray, Richard Marciano, Robert Radula, Barbara Swift and Thomas Comparato. Anyone interested in the committee appointments should contact one of the committee members.

Mr. Ralph reported on the status of Poms Pond. It was reported that final Bureau of Outdoor Recreation approval for funding has not been received to date. Therefore, temporary sanitary facilities will be utilized. The area will have new picnic tables, fireplaces and playground equipment for family usage.

Opening date for the pond will be 3 June 21.

Mr. Gray, the committee member liaison with the Sacred Heart Property Committee reported on the committee's progress and future. The committee discussed the impact of the school committee's decision and the possible alternatives open to the committee.

The next committee meeting will be held on July 15, in the Stowe School building at 8 p.m.

Council Effects County Savings

(Special Townsman Report)

Critics of county government have something to applaud this week, with the announcement that the Essex County assessments will be less this year, due to the work of the newly created Essex County Advisory Board.

The advisory group, composed of representatives from the 34 cities and towns throughout the county, examined the original budget presented by the County Commissioners and made recommendations on decreased services and costs.

The result is a reduced budget for fiscal 1976 of about $400,000.

Approximate figures set the Essex County costs for next year at $10,300,000, some $400,000 less than the $10,700,000 for the fiscal year which will end on June 30.

Overall, the advisory board, created by the legislature to oversee county operations, had made recommended cuts close to $1 million in the original budget presentation made by the county commissioners.

Andover representatives to the Advisory Council were pleased with the final budget which has received the approval of the legislative committee on counties.

Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen serves on the executive committee of the advisory council and Assistant Town Manager Sheldon S. Cohen is secretary.

Greenberg said he was pleased with the end result of the work of the advisory council as well as the continued interest by the elected and appointed officials from the county communities.

He said he was looking forward to continuing to work with the county commissioners in the year ahead in the interest of efficiency and economy in government.

Cohen likewise was pleased with the reduced county costs, noting that the legislative committee on counties went along with about 93 per cent of the recommendations of the advisory group.

The council was organized last October, Cohen noted, and their work has had an immediate beneficial effect for the county residents, he noted.

Attendance at the council sessions has been good, with 30 out of the 34 towns and cities having regular representation, Cohen noted.

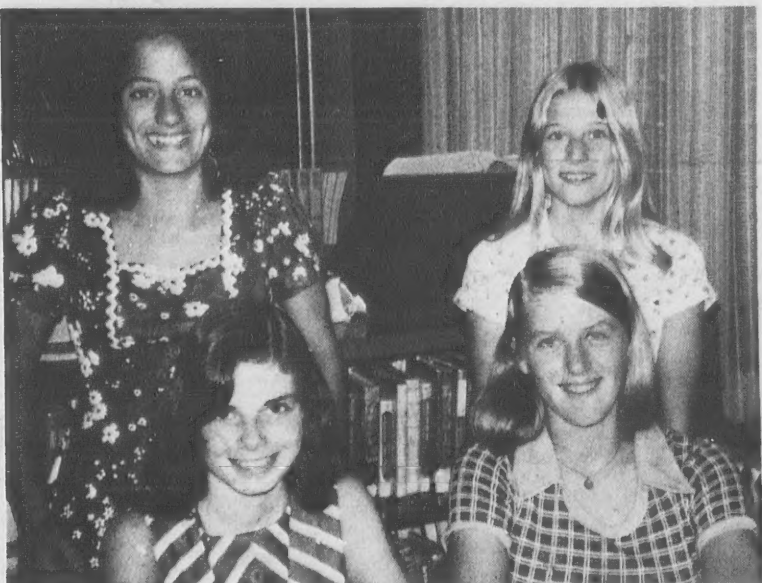

Mayor John J. Buckley of Lawrence is chairman of the council.

To effect the cuts, the council and county commission had to take into consideration an approximate 11 per cent increase in goods and services caused by inflation.

The committee on counties has approved a recommendation of the Essex County Commissioners which will allow the hiring of eight attorneys to represent indigent defendants in the courts of the county which will save county taxpayers about $150,000 in the first year of operation.

Now individual attorneys are named by various judges on a fee basis to handle such cases. The cost for the current year will be about $203,000 and was expected to reach $250,000 without the adoption of the new system.

The eight attorneys will be chosen exclusively from lists submitted to the county commissioners by judges and the various bar associations in the county.

Student Council Officers

New Student Council Officers at East Junior High for the coming school year as a result of recent election are, standing left, Toni Iacobo, secretary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Iacobo; Dianne Clendaniel, treasurer, daughter of E.L. 6 Tracks Clear For The Past; Future Now On The Line

Governor Michael Dukakis this past week signed the bill providing the authority to pay past due bills to the MBTA for commuter train service to Andover, with members of the Andover Rail Committee on hand, from left, David T. Riddiford, John S. Sullivan, Rep. Gerald Cohen, David E. Floreen, Sandra Shaker, Vahey S. Gulezian, Atty. Robert S. Zollner and Saul J. Goldberg.

(Special Townsman Report)

The bill for Andover's once-a-day commuter train service has been approved for payment by Gov. Michael S. Dukakis.

Members of the Andover Rail Committee were on hand last week for the signing of a special bill which authorized payment by the town to the MBTA for the once-a-day commuter service between Boston and Andover for a period extending back to January, 1974.

The measure was necessary to clear all legalities inherent in the town meeting approval of continued rail service June 30 of this year.

Members of the Andover Rail Committee were on hand for the signing.

The ARC group fought to maintain the train service after an October town meeting refused to pay the funds needed for rail continuance. The committee raised over $5,000 to guarantee payment to the MBTA through March at which time another town meeting vote could be obtained.

The governor's signature last week, allowed the town to pay all bills due for the service for an 18-month period beginning in January of 1974.

The ARC group also heard from the governor on Mass transit problems which coincides with the pledged efforts of the group to look into improved train service to the area.

During the request for favorable consideration of the continued service in March, commuters pledged to attempt to determine if increased train service to the area could be provided.

Atty. Robert S. Zollner said that the committee has investigated this possibility and has sifted down some schedules which will be presented to the selectmen, to whom the ARC group is to report.

Zollner said the plans would be presented to the selectmen sometime in the near future.

He also noted that any increased service, would, of course, hinge on acceptance of such a plan by Lawrence and Haverhill, which are also served by the MBTA, Boston and Maine daily runs.

A new schedule could be implemented as early as September, depending on acceptance of provisions being worked out between local people and MBTA officials.

Chairman Milton Greenberg of the selectmen reported this week that while his board would listen to any request of the rail committee, immediate concern of the town is with payment of the state share of the subsidized train service for fiscal 1975-'76.

Coupled with payment of past bills at the March town meeting, was, for the first time, approval of funds to continue the train for another year.

The approval was contingent on the state continuing the subsidy of the commuter service.

This is an annual appropriation, Andover officials learned last Thursday morning at a legislative - businessmen's breakfast conducted by the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce.

Rep. Nicholas F. Buglione of Methuen, a member of the House Ways and Means committee reported that the state has not yet provided this money for fiscal '75-'76 as yet.

Thus, while the tracks are clear as far as the Andover town meeting vote is concerned, the town must await action of the state before throttling the Andover-Boston express.

Militia To Make First Appearance On Friday

Prepared To March

Bunker Hill Flag

Members of the November Club recently presented a Bunker Hill flag to the Andover Militia Company. Mrs. Robert Lampe and Mrs. Warren Oldaker made the presentation to Capt. Edward Parker. The original Andover Company participated in the Battle of Bunker Hill.

Art Guild Activities For Bazaar

The Andover Artists Guild will again be offering a variety of activities at the Sidewalk Bazaar on June 20 and 21, Friday and Saturday.

The booth will be located in front of the Bay State National Bank.

There will be continual demonstrations in oils, watercolors, pottery, spinning and wood and metal sculpture, during both days.

Crafts and small paintings will be for sale. Artists will be doing pastel portrait sketches and silhouettes at a reasonable price.

Members of the Guild will be holding an outdoor exhibition of paintings and sculpture at the rear of the bank property.

Dressed in as authentic clothes as their womenfolk can make, with new muskets ready to fire, and young fifiers not old enough to fight, the new Andover Militia will make its first public appearance on Friday evening, June 20 at 7:30.

Members will assemble at the Park on Bartlet St., parade down Punchard Ave. to Main, north on Main to Elm Square where they will pause for drill and firing of their muskets.

They will resume parade to South Church Cemetery, via Central St., where the Rev. Everett Bodge, "standing in" for Reverend Jonathan French, minister - doctor to the first Andover Militia will hold a commemorative ceremony for the many members of the 1775 militia buried there.

Formed in March of this year in the spirit of the Bicentennial, by Ed Parker, local graphic artist, the 12 men have been training in 18th Century Drill under the direction of the West Parish Militia of Saugus. Two drummers and three fifiers make up the rest of the company. In order to add a sense of immediacy and authenticity to the group, each man has taken the identity of an original member of the militia, most of whom were farmers.

Militia members are: Captain and founder, Ed Parker, Lieutenant Allen B. Copeland, Sergeant-Major Dick Conron, Sergeant-paymaster, Robert Mirisola, Corporal Eric Heartquist, Privates Ed Arcand, Bob Butler, Charles Cuttler, Roger DelliColli, Larry Douglas, Greg Hanawalt, Charles Hollinger, Lou Lawson, Donald Ward. The young fifiers are Brick George, Diane Young and Peter Young (not related).

The Militia and their families and friends will be in evidence at the Sidewalk Bazaar, Friday and Saturday of this week, selling tickets for a raffle for $175. worth of groceries. The drawing will take place at the Bazaar June 21, with the proceeds being used to purchase much needed equipment.

Bicentennial Buttons To Be On Sale

Celebrate the Bicentennial in Andover by wearing a Bicentennial Button printed with the colorful Andover logo. These buttons will be available at the Bicentennial Booth during the Sidewalk Bazaar this weekend.

Colonial Tricorner hats will also be sold by the Bicentennial Committee as well as historical maps of both Andover and North Andover. After the Bazaar these items will be available at the Bicentennial Information Booth to be manned weekends at the police box in Elm Square.

Bicentennial shuttle buses, serving the Freedom Trail and Back Bay, are in service in Boston. They leave the Boston Common at Charles Street at 9:30 a.m.

FROTHINGHAM QUEEN
ANNE HIGHBOY

$1000

This magnificent bonnet top high-boy numbers among the most distinguished reproductions ever produced by Statton craftsmen. Representative of the Queen Anne style, the original is dated about 1765 and is attributed to the prominent Massachusetts cabinetmaker, Major Benjamin Frothingham, who was active in Charlestown from 1756 to 1809.

Its characteristically slender body proportions set upon delicate cabriole legs are enhanced not only by three elegant flame finials surmounting the scrolled bonnet pediment, but also by two drawers bearing a form of distinctive shell carving that is virtually a Frothingham trademark. The nearly lost art of hand carving is required to recreate the unique motifs within the shells, as well as the acanthus leaves with which they are embellished.

Explaining Textile Operations

Programs Aid Museum

Greater Lawrence school children and area historians will soon be reaping the benefits from two programs executed by the Merrimack Valley Textile Museum with funds provided by the Massachusetts Council on the Arts and Humanities.

"Cloth-Making in Early New England" involved members of the Museum's teacher-trainees, who attended a series of lectures, discussions and demonstrations which provided them with essential information about the role of textile manufacturing. Each trainee then worked with a classroom teacher over a period of several weeks. The results of their experiences will be used in enlarging the Museum's school program during the next academic year.

Museum trainees and their affiliated schools were: Carole Presberg of Haverhill, the Greenleaf School, Bradford; Diane Goldman of Westville, N.H., the Kellogg School of Bedford, N.H. and the Bancroft School, Andover; Barbara Itz of Andover, East Junior High School of Andover; Annelies Burgess of North Andover, the Pike School, Andover; Elise Morrill of Wakefield, the Pike School, Andover; Nancy Britton, college student; and Mary Stevens of Andover, the Bancroft School of Andover.

The second project involved the printing of 1,938 glass-plate negatives made by the Davis and Furber Machine Company of North Andover between about 1890 and 1930. Completion of the project makes it possible for the first time for local historians and scholars to use this important photographic record. Scenes captured on film include the manufacture and erection of textile machinery and parts; maintenance of the company dam, pond and fire fighting apparatus; remodeling of the Davis mansion which was demolished in 1929 and company housing. The photographic record is further enhanced by the fact that the Company is still in business and the Machine Shop Village which it built is still intact. The area around the manufacturing plant is thought to represent one of the most important industrial landscapes in New England. The photographs are a very useful addition to the documents, business manuscripts, orders for machinery and other records already on file at the Museum.

Red Sox, Giants Titlists

By Rick Harrison

The American League Red Sox and National League Giants captured first-half championships in the Andover Little League last weekend.

Both teams finished with identical 8-2 records to edge out the nearest competition by a single game.

After taking this week off for some rest and practice, the league will launch the second half of its 20-game season this Saturday with all 12 teams seeing action.

Each club will start the second half fresh, with a 0-0 slate, and should anyone but the Red Sox and Giants win the next half there will be a playoff between the two champs on July 26 to determine the representative in the Town Championship.

Down To Last Day

The American League pennant chase went right down to the final day, with the Red Sox and Yankees both owning 7-2 records up to that time.

The Sox came through with a 4-1 victory over the surging Twins, but the Yankees dropped a tough extra-inning 2-1 decision to pitcher Bob Patterson and the upstart Indians.

Earlier in the week the Red Sox had bombed the Tigers, 10-2, while the Yanks rallied to outlast the Twins, 9-8.

Richie Sambuco hurled the first three innings and Eddie Powers the last three in the Sox' vital 4-1 conquest of the Twins. Together they combined for a five-hitter and 10 strikeouts.

Sambuco also helped break the game open, hammering two doubles and driving home a run in the pivotal fifth stanza when the Red Sox snapped a 1-1 deadlock with three markers.

Bob Faigel drilled an RBI double, Mark Rogers laced a run-scoring single and Ted Kelley lofted a sacrifice fly for another tally.

Powers chipped in a pair of safeties for the champs, while Don Bliss and Tommy Wilkins spiked solo hits.

The Twins' Jeff Nicastro belted a double. Adding singles for the losers were pitcher Steve Rathbun, Barry Bloom, Jeff Bruk and Dave Gusmini.

No-Hitter

Tommy Wilkins and Richie Sambuco pooled talents for a no-hitter in the Red Sox 10-2 romp over the Tigers.

Wilkins hurled the opening four innings, setting down the first nine batters in order before losing his chance for a perfect game in the fourth. Wildness then made it necessary for Sambuco to enter.

The winners were never in trouble, erupting for three runs in the first, third and fourth frames.

Ed Powers went 3-for-4 with two doubles, and he narrowly missed a fourth safety when his hot liner to shortstop was stabbled.

Wilkins helped his own cause by lashing two doubles for two RBIs, while Mark Rogers clouted a two-run double, Ted Kelley was 2-for-3 with an RBI two-bagger and Don Bliss laced a run-scoring single.

Sambuco helped complete the Sox barrage with two singles, Tom Hetley singled and Todd Zimmerman contributed one hit.

Bob Faigel starred defensively with an excellent backhanded stab in leftfield to preserve the no-hitter for Messrs. Wilkins and Sambuco.

Although the Tigers did little offensively, second sacker Craig Horgan and catcher Mike Riley played well defensively.

Giants Roll

The NL Giants banked on superb pitching down the homestretch, as shutout hurling by Carmen Scarpa and a trio of chuckers sparked late victories over the defending champion Mets and Pirates.

Scarpa fashioned a brilliant five-hit masterpiece to guide a 4-0 conquest of the Mets. Carmen fanned seven and walked none during his gem.

Bob Meier cracked a double and single for the champs, while Mike Lucey banged out a key

Ruth Club Extends Win Streak

By Rick Harrison

Extending its winning streak to five straight games, the Andover Babe Ruth baseball team continued to play championship caliber ball with three victories over the past week.

Bringing together stingy pitching, solid defense and timely hitting, the locals edged South Lawrence West (3-1), slammed South Lawrence East (9-1) and made it two straight over rival North Andover (5-2).

The results boosted Andover's overall record to 6-1, setting up a first place showdown battle against Methuen tonight at the Playstead.

Righthander Tom Coffey continued to look like the top hurler in the Greater Lawrence League, firing his third complete game of the season.

In three outings Coffey has tossed 21 innings, allowed eight hits and struck out 29.

Mike Henderson, Dan Hayes and Dave Birnbach complete the formidable Andover staff, which has permitted only nine earned runs in seven games.

In 49 innings the pitchers have surrendered just 22 hits and fanned 50 batters.

Andover's superb early-season pitching continued against South Lawrence West, as righthander Dan Hayes and lefty Dave Birnbach combined for a four-hitter in a 3-1 victory.

It also marked the fourth time in five games that the locals had limited the opposition to one run or less.

Andover was pretty well stymied itself by SLW hurler Nick Guerrero, who permitted only a pair of bunt singles by Dave Farrell and Tom Coffey and had a shutout working into the sixth inning.

SLW broke the scoreless deadlock in the third when Ed Hickey walked, took second on a sacrifice and scored on Guerrero's single. The visitors had runners at second and third with one out in the frame, but Hayes bore down to retire Walt Wila on an infield grounder and Joe Haddad on a strikeout.

Hayes also worked out of bases-loaded jams in the fourth and fifth, while the locals only threat early in the game saw men stranded at second and third base in the third stanza.

Volleyball Winners Honored

The annual men's volleyball awards banquet of the Andover-North Andover YMCA was conducted during the past week at a local restaurant. Master of ceremonies James Sellers called on Robert Walmsley for the invocation. High spot of the evening was the showing of play-off's play via closed circuit television.

Awards were presented as follows: Volleyball League Champions, the Raccons, individual awards to Gary Grant, Dick Graber, Ed Tremblay, Bob Walmsley, Peter Cervone, Syd Mukul, Robert Ryan and Ted Babine. Three-man team tournament winners receiving awards were Gary Grant, Harry Schmitke and Ted Babine; the consolation prize winners were Ed Weil, Jim Sellers and Carl Byers.

Special awards were presented as follows: Spiker Award, Jack Fitzgerald; Scooper Awards, Carl Byers and Ralph Rooke; Blocker Award, Al Knight; Server Award, Ed Biscema; and Digger Award, Gary Grant.

Andover rallied to win the game in the sixth, sending nine hitters to the plate in the process. Dave Farrell was hit by a pitch to lead the inning. Bob Zwicker walked and Tom Coffey beat out a bunt to load the bases.

Hayes then lashed what appeared to be a two-run single, but he stepped out of the batter's box which cancelled the hit and both runs.

Steve Serley and Gary Needham followed with infield choppers that rescued the tying and winning markers, while a bases-loaded walk to Dave Birnbach forced in the insurance tally, 3-1.

With one out in the seventh Hayes issued successive walks to Guerrero and Wila, setting the stage for Dave Birnbach in relief.

Dave was summoned with a 2-0 count on Haddad, and he retired the SLW clean-up hitter two pitches later on a high, twisting pop-up on which first-baseman Steve Serley made an excellent catch.

Birnbach then induced Tony D'Anna to bounce into a forceout ending the game.

Hayes fanned five and walked five while squaring his record at 1-1.

Third baseman Tom Coffey and centerfielder Paul Kelly joined Serley with steady defensive efforts.

Another Two-Hitter

It was more of the same Saturday against South Lawrence East, as Mike Henderson twirled a two-hitter and Andover banged out nine safeties enroute to a 9-1 win over South Lawrence East at the Stadium.

Henderson, author of a one-hitter the first time out, surrendered a first inning leadoff single to Steve Conway and a fourth stanza single by Jim Sheehy. That was it, however, as the 15-year-old right-hander whiffed four batters and issued five walks.

Andover jumped to a quick 2-0 lead in the opening canto, with singles by Tom Coffey and Dan Hayes leading the way.

The score went to 4-0 in the second, as Dan Grams walked, Dave Birnbach singled and both later scored on a pair of passed balls.

Two more tallies in the third put the locals ahead 6-0 as singles by Steve Serley, Gary Needham and Birnbach paced this uprising.

SLW spoiled Henderson's bid for another shutout in the home half of the third. Walks to Jim Ord and Keith Fosman opened the frame. Conway bunted them along and Lou Grillo's infield bouncer rescued Ord.

Andover retaliated in the fifth when Needham walked, Dan Grams singled, both advanced on a passed ball and Dave Birnbach laid down a bunt single scoring Needham.

The locals struck for two final markers in the sixth, parlaying a Tom Coffey single with walks to Dave Farrell and Dan Hayes into the 9-1 finish.

Birnbach closed with a perfect 3-for-3 afternoon and Coffey lashed two safeties to spark the assault.

Fine defensive plays were made by Steve Serley at first base and Dave Birnbach in rightfield. Andover also triggered its first two doubleplays of the season, one started by Birnbach and the second by Henderson at the mound.

Following this game Andover hurlers had thrown a no-hitter, one-hitter, two two-hitters and a three-hitter over the opening six games.

Coffey Wins Third

After a weekend bout with a virus, Tom Coffey came back to lift his personal pitching ledger to 3-0 as Andover trimmed North Andover 5-2 at the Playstead Monday night.

Tom scattered five singles, whiffed nine and issued five walks as the locals snapped NA's four-game victory streak.

The visitors grabbed a 1-0 lead in the third after two were out. John Licciardi and Mike Laorenza worked Coffey for back-to-back walks, and then Tom Erle drilled an RBI single to leftfield.

Andover's first threat against lefty Bill Sansoucie came in the bottom of the fourth, when Bob Zwicker beat out an infield hit and Coffey was safe after Sansoucie misplayed his bunt.

However, the NA southpaw bore down to retire the next three batters as Andover left runners stranded at the corners.

The locals broke through for all five of their runs in the fifth, parading 10 batters to the plate.

Danny Grams started the winning rally with a single to leftfield, and after two were out successive walks to Dave Farrell and Zwicker jammed the sacks.

Coffey helped himself and put Andover ahead to stay by dumping a 2-2 pitch over shortstop for a two-run single. Sansoucie then hit both Dan Hayes and Steve Serley with pitches to force in the third run, after which Gary Needham sliced a two-run single to rightfield.

North Andover picked up its final tally in the sixth when Laorenza walked, Erle singled and Dan Juba laced an RBI single to rightfield.

Coffey proceeded to retire the last five batters in succession enroute to the triumph. Tom struck out the side in the first inning, and during one mid-game stretch he put down seven straight hitters.

Bob Zwicker enjoyed a perfect 3-for-3 night at the plate, while Dave Farrell reached base three times on walks.

Outstanding defensive plays were made by Dan Hayes, who raced all the way from medium-deep centerfield to the infield to grab a wind-blown pop-up, and first baseman Steve Serley who snared a high foul fly.

Dan Grams also started Andover's third doubleplay of the season and third twin-killing over the last two games.

Schedule

A key first-place battle against Methuen, the only team to defeat Andover this season, is on tap at the Playstead tonight at 6 p.m.

Next week Prospect Hill, South Lawrence West and South Lawrence East provide the opposition at the Stadium, Mount Vernon Park and the Playstead on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday respectively.

Tag Days

Andover Babe Ruth players will be holding their annual Tag Days tomorrow and Saturday in conjunction with the Sidewalk Bazaar.

It is the principle means by which the team raises funds to pay for cost of equipment, umpires fees, insurance and other expenses.

Team officials wish to thank in advance any townspeople who contribute and help keep the club in operation.

Award Winners

Susan Lenoe, front and Elaine Ciampa, display the awards won for their performances with Andover Community Theater productions. The awards were presented during recent drama festival in Connecticut.

ACT Players Win At Festival

The Andover Community Theatre culminated a successful season by winning several awards at the New England Theatre Conference Festival.

Susan Lenoe and Elaine Ciampa both won the best supporting actress award for their roles in Checkhov's "Two Fools Who Gained a Measure of Wisdom." Because of the excellence of their performances the Adjudicator decided to give the award to both actresses.

Susan Lenoe's award was for her portrayal of "The Aunt," a crochety, decrepit, slovenly old lady. Her work in this role, a far departure from her recent success as the aristocratic "Regina" in "The Little Foxes" gives an indication of her wide range of acting ability.

Elaine Ciampa, another versatile performer, found the perfect vehicle for her talent as a comedienne as "The Maid." Last year at the festival, Elaine won honorable mention in the same category, in ACT's entry of "The Ugly Duckling."

Directed by Rick Cannon, the cast of "Two Fools" also included Peter Jako, Ann Foley and Michael Doran. Playing an unseen dog, Michael was given a special "Adjudicator Award" for his realistic barking.

Beside these individual acting citations will be given to those who have lost 25 lbs. or more. Free diet recipes will be distributed to all those in attendance.

New members, including men, women and youngsters, will be welcome to join at this meeting and in the coming months.

NOW Group Meets

Meeting of Greater Lawrence National Organization for Women to discuss goals of the group, equal opportunity in education, and the problems of separation and divorce will be held at Stevens Convalescent Center in North Andover, off Rte. 125, Tuesday, June 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Diet Dishes Graduation Feature

A Tasting Party featuring delicious low-calorie foods will highlight the graduation ceremonies at the North Andover Diet Workshop on Tuesday, June 24, at 9:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. and on Wednesday, June 25, also at 9:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church on Peters Street (Rte. 133). The public will be welcome to attend.

Costello Gets Masters At Wesleyan

David J. Costello of North Andover received the degree of master of arts in liberal studies at Wesleyan University's 143rd commencement June 1. More than 125 advanced degrees and 390 undergraduate degrees were conferred during the afternoon ceremonies.

Costello received his B.A. from Bowdoin College in 1968. He is currently associated with the Brooks School in North Andover. He earned the M.A.L.S. degree at Wesleyan's Graduate Summer School for Teachers.

The primary purpose of the summer program is to provide teachers and school administrators with an opportunity to extend their liberal education through increased command of their own and related subjects. Students are required to work in at least three subjects and to undertake advanced study in one academic area.

More than 1,000 teachers have now earned the M.A.L.S. degree at Wesleyan since it was first awarded in 1955.

Stafford Cops Win In Junkyard Derby and a picnic supper commencing 21 at 5:30 p.m.

Geoffrey Stafford is set at the starting line with his winning entry in the annual Junkyard Derby held by Cub Pack 71, Shawsheen School last Saturday. Geoffrey was overall and Class 1 winner in the event.

Twenty-seven cars comprised the field of entries last Saturday at the second Annual Junkyard Derby sponsored on York Street by Cub Scout Pack 71, Shawsheen School PTO. Grey skies failed to dampen either drivers or spectators and, fortified by tons of hamburgers, hot dogs and coke, they cheered on their favorites as the cars were first divided into four classes during time trials, then run off against each other in heats.

Winner overall and of the Class 1 trophy was Geoffrey Stafford driving "Geoff's Junkyard" with a time of 21.5 seconds. Billy Foley posted the second fastest time with "Billy's Buggy" which also was the only casualty of the race in rolling over while pitted against Joy Stafford.

Other Class winners were Robby Harrison, Class 2, Chris Leech, Class 3, and Scott Kimball, Class 4. Special awards went to Mike and Dan Donlan for the "junkiest" car, Chris Leech in his "Pink Panther Porsche" for the funniest car (it had ears!), Frank Cote in "Big O" for the best looking car, and Rob Calder in "Junkyard Special" for the best engineered car. Heat winners in Class 1 were Billy

Foley, Joy and Geoffrey Stafford. In Class 2, honors went to Jonn VanDerZee, Glen Wright, Robby Harrison and Rob Calder. Class 3 leaders were Chris Leech, Mark Tremblay, Scott Robichaud and Kevin Flynn. In Class 4, they were Beth Deacon, Tom DeLeire and Scott Kimball. Other entrants were Deana Martone, Mark Peters, Bruce Deacon, Brian Levanti, Teddy Silverman, Seldon Rose, Ricky Conron, Gary David, Bryant Gaudet, Kenny Flynn and Chris Marcella. The Marcella car was appointed official "Pace car" and carried a "navigator" along with the driver.

Thanks to the Andover Police, Shetland Industries, residents of York Street and excellent though spirited behavior of the participants, "Junkyard Derby '75" was a resounding success.

All awards are to be made on Sunday, June 22, at Recreation Park. The ceremony at 8 p.m. will be preceded by field events

Presidential Comments

New president of the Andover Chamber of Commerce, Atty. Andrew F. Shea, addresses the annual dinner meeting of the organization held last Thursday at the Indian Ridge Country Club.

Clydesdales A Highlight Of Annual Bazaar Days

Downtown Andover becomes a fun place to be this weekend as the annual Sidewalk Bazaar days of the Andover Chamber of Commerce take place.

The annual two day program, filled with special events, offerings by the town civic, social and religious organizations, will be enhanced this year by the world famous Annheuser-Busch Clydesdale horses.

Downtown merchants, members of the Andover Center Merchants will be offering an abundance of bargains for shoppers moving along the Main street, in what has been characteristically one of the most enjoyable events of the early summer.

Community organizations will have booths set up along the main business section from Elm Square to Punchard avenue, offering a variety of goods to benefit their treasuries to further their work in civic and charitable work in the town.

Joining with the groups will be Andover's retailers who will likewise be offering bargain tables both in and out of their stores.

Concerted effort by officials of the chamber over the past few years will bear fruition this year with the appearance of the famous Clydesdales on Saturday.

The famed team, wagon and dog, are scheduled to be in the downtown area from 12 noon to 4 p.m. on Saturday.

Paul Gmyrek and John Obert, who have headed up this year's edition of the bazaar, note an increased interest in the event by community organizations, as well as the merchants promises to make the 1975 event the best ever.

As has been custom the overall planning for the event has been done with the family in mind, with the special events designed to be of interest to all. The Merrimack Valley Academy of Dance will perform at 4 p.m. on Friday. The always popular Clan MacPherson bagpipe band is scheduled for a performance at 6:30 p.m.

Downtown Potential Boosted By Planner

"You have a lot here to build on," Philip Herr, consultant to the planning board advised the annual dinner meeting of the Andover Chamber of Commerce last Thursday night at the Indian Ridge Country Club.

Herr, who has been retained by the planners to assist in the examination of Andover's central business district, informed the gathering of business and professional people and their guests that the manner of guiding the center of Andover into the future is an agenda item which could command attention for the next two years.

The consultant was the guest speaker at the affair during which Frank Monette, active with Andover youth in sports, was presented the Chamber's Community Service Award and Jerry O'Donoghue, innkeeper at the Andover Inn and past president of the chamber was presented the President's Award.

Entertainment was provided by the Merrimack College Alumni Glee Club under the direction of Rev. Thomas Walsh, O.S.A.

Herr, in discussing the downtown business area, commented on shopping centers in nearby communities and emphasized that Andover has

He commented on a potential $40 million business potential in the area and that the Andover center was an ideal shopping area.

Questions which must be answered revolve around the growth of the town, Herr said, advising that proper planning now will further develop the potential.

Your trip to New York is none of Boston's business.

Up until recently, you had to drive into Boston to fly to New York. And fight the traffic all the way.

You had to wait for the tickets.

And wait for the boarding.

In fact, if you had a little luggage, you even had to wait for the weight.

Well, starting June 16th, we're going to help you cut about an hour off that trip. The hour you've been spending on the ground, going nowhere.

And we're going to help you do it in style, too. With complimentary parking when you get to Lawrence. And a complimentary limousine when you get to New York.

For $36. plus tax, we'll fly you (and all of your carry-on luggage) from Lawrence Municipal Airport to LaGuardia. We'll drive you into midtown. Drop you off at the Grand Central Station. And do the waiting for you.

Whenever you're ready to return, you'll get the same great VIP service in reverse. Limousine and all.

We think it's a pretty convenient package. And a Pretty economical one too, when you consider how valuable your time is.

No One Due Such Indignities

As the town continues to await formal action on the announced resignations of School Committeemen John F. Lyons and George F. Olesen, we must take a dim view of the indignities suffered by the two during their tenure on the board.

While our thoughts on what their future course should be remain unchanged, namely that they should follow through with their intentions, we feel that Mr. Lyons, John G. Wragg before him and Olesen, have been subject to undue harassment, because their views are not agreeable to others in the community.

Harassment is hardly the word for having garbage dumped on one's lawn, eggs thrown at the house, motor vehicle tracks imbedded in the lawns, and threats to personal, private business ventures.

These are among the things that have befallen Mr. Lyons in particular, simply because his views and, in some cases, actions, have proven disagreeable to others.

Such actions, we fear, are not the work of youthful vandals, but planned attacks either directed or performed by adults who should know better.

When a man runs for public office, it is an expression that he is willing to serve his community.

He may be motivated by what he possibly sees as a need for change in a system, but, whatever, he is willing to surrender his time for either a particular cause, or just to be a public servant.

We still cling to the theory in this country, that we are afforded the freedom to express ourselves and to disagree with public officials, if we so choose.

But such disagreement should be confined to the usual, normal channels of discussion at meetings.

Public officials are often subjected to telephone calls at unusual hours to discuss matters, or to voice opposition or pleasure with a view.

This is all part of the game, so to speak.

But, such indignities as the garbage, senseless vandalism, and threats involving a man's business, is something which cannot be condoned.

It not only is unfair to those who are willing to serve and have been duly elected to represent the town, but offers discouragement to others who may wish to serve and become candidates.

Reasonable, alternative voices remain a vital part of the democratic system. We need them to allow for proper and full discussion of issues.

Subjecting persons to the treatment accorded Mr. Lyons and company, not only leads to undermining a proven system, it exemplifies almost fiendish acts of retribution to which no one should be subjected.

A Hard Sell

If a consensus of those in attendance at the Sacred Heart Study committee meeting Monday night were made, we would judge the general feeling would be buy the property and hold it.

But, there were only about 75 persons there, all with a particular interest -- they are abutters of the property, or, in general, Shawsheen residents.

Most pertinent remark during the evening, we would surmise, was the reference to the general feeling of Shawsheen residents of being "positively petrified," of the property going to commercial use.

It was somewhat evident that, if the decision were left to the Shawsheen people, they would favor purchasing the entire parcel and leaving the building vacant, or have some partial use by the town.

What, though, of the feeling once the matter gets out of the Shawsheen area and into the forum of a town meeting?

There is merit in the thoughts of the Shawsheen residents. Little doubt surrounds the desire of the town to obtain the land that goes with the Sacred Heart school property. But there is no feasible use seen for the building of 120,000 square feet of floor space. At the moment the property is a package deal.

Communities seldom exercise the foresight to acquire property for use a decade hence, which could be the case in the consideration of purchasing the building itself.

We are of the opinion that it would take a "hard sell" effort to convince town meeting of the feasibility of spending $1,800,000 for the property. Even more difficult to sell, in our present view, is the idea of purchasing the property then having the building torn down.

The town has been given an Aug. 1 deadline for consideration of the property by officials handling the property for the Sacred Heart Brothers.

Based on the feelings expressed Monday night, we now see the matter going to a town meeting in October for a general determination by the town.

There seems sufficient protective interests of Shawsheen residents as expressed in the meeting Monday night, to allow for such a general town-wide determination, which, of course, could be weighted under our current town meeting system.

Comments On 'Hoax'

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

ANDOVER EDUCATION A "HOAX"? Ah! Yes. But, since when? And who is to blame? The Andover Education Association, to which 60% of the teachers belong, would have gained a great deal in stature and dignity if it had presented its concerns, which are for the most part legitimate, in an objective and mature manner. The statement read at the June 3rd School Committee meeting was, instead, vindictive, belligerent, "abrasive and vicious". It chose a scapegoat, the School Committee, and blamed it, indiscriminately, naively, for all the ills of the Andover educational system. - the simplistic, primitive baseball bat approach.

A few examples will suffice to illustrate the partiality, inaccuracy and unfairness that permeated the statement.

- overcrowded classes - certainly there are some; but there also exist very small classes - not mentioned

- overburdened teachers - surely; but there are those with a light load. For example in Junior High, one department head has only 3 classes. 7th and 8th grade teachers (on the teams) have 4 classes each. Who does scheduling of teachers? The School Committee?

- lack of respect for teachers - when it originates with administrators, in the form of yelling, swearing, insults, financial sanctions, attempted censorship, the A.E.A. turns its head the other way. The tone of the A.E.A. document will do nothing to enhance teachers' respectability, for it commands little respect.

- inadequate salaries
- reduction of personnel, services, class offerings
- poor working conditions - all this stems from insufficient funds. Who decreed that taxes should not be raised, in spite of rampant inflation? The School Committee? Who establishes the school budget and the priorities?

I have often raised a cry of alarm at the piteous results of the so-called progressive education and sympathized with the lost generation, a victim of it.

The conservative members of the School Committee have attempted to stem the undeniable decline in the quality of instruction in Andover, to curb the dilapidated, country-club atmosphere pervasive in the schools. They have been hampered in their efforts by chicanery, demagoguery, all kinds of personal harassments. I deplore their departure. Substantial progress was being made toward restoring content and discipline to education.

Are the ladies officers of the A.E.A. - individually intelligent and dedicated (most of them) turning into "tricotseuses", gleefully knitting while heads roll? Mob psychology... a lynching mob... THEY have made a mockery of very real concerns; THEY have made Andover a subject of ridicule, by throwing bricks at the wrong target.

Open Letter To John Lyons

Dr. Westcott says that it is most difficult to discern in what way the writer of the Shawsheen Parents' letter weighed the I.G.E. experience. Concerned Shawsheen parents weigh the I.G.E. experience in view of the fact that 28 out of 33 grade - subject categories tested lower in the two I.G.E. schools than in the other four elementary schools in Andover - and they were lower by significant amounts in most cases. The statistical probability of such an occurrence by chance is approximately 6%. Put another way the probability of both South and Shawsheen

In French Program At Gordon

The Foreign Language Departments of Andover, Lynnfield, Methuen, North Andover and Wilmington recently co-operated in a French Total Immersion Program at Gordon College in Wenham.

The goal of this project is to bring together qualified students of French who have a high interest and strong oral fluency in the language. The program provided a unique opportunity for sharing in French, experiences with members of the respective communities whose forte is French culture, language and literature.

Invited to participate as guest speakers were: Azziz Bennani of Cambridge, who through an informal conversation, slide and fashion presentation introduced the students to the Moroccan culture. He discussed cultural differences between Morocco and other francophone countries.

Miss Laurence Berge Andreu, of the French Library in Boston, talked of language changes and contemporary jargon as seen through a study of classical authors and their use of "argot".

A highlight of the program was dance instruction provided by the studio Folk Dance 'Round Boston, under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Cornell Taylor of Lexington. Students learned many new dance techniques and in particular, the folk dances of the Berton and Norman regions of France.

Finally Andover High School participants presented a short demonstration of Cuisine Francaise under the guidance of Mme Bennani.

All schools participated in student directed short dramatic presentations as a climax.

Represents Library At Council

Ellen P. Spilka, director of the Stevens Memorial Library, represented the community of North Andover at the annual meeting of the Eastern Massachusetts Regional Advisory Council June 4 at the Boston Public Library.

At the meeting, Mrs. Spilka was elected a Director for a two year term of the Executive Committee which represents the Council. Six officers are chosen each year to serve on the Executive Committee of the Council. Council members develop a plan of service and a proposed budget for the Eastern Massachusetts Library System which is submitted to the Board of Library Commissioners for their approval.

Acted upon at the meeting was the proposed budget of $1,679,923, allocated by the Commonwealth which represents a zero increase over the previous year's budget.

The Massachusetts Regional Public Library System, set up to augment local library service to Massachusetts residents, includes 384 public libraries divided into three regions: Eastern, Central, and Western. Services to local public libraries include: interlibrary loan, delivery service, films, bookmobiles, reference and telephone information, and advisory services.

The Eastern Region, the largest of the three state regions, has eight sub regional libraries, with the Boston public library as its headquarters library.

Bicentennial Center

We have a new Bicentennial Center in the library. It is located in the area near the Community Corner, and it will contain all pertinent dates and activities relating to the bicentennial in Andover and throughout the state. Please register your organization or club activity with the Bicentennial Center. It will be put on the community calendar. The Bicentennial Times issued by the Massachusetts Bicentennial Commission is available for all to read, as are a number of pamphlets and flyers relating to the bicentennial. The informational material in the Bicentennial Center and in the Community Corner is not for circulation, but rather to be read in the library.

Coast Guard Auxiliary To Conduct Inspection

National Boat Week will begin June 29.

The Safety Engineering Department of Western Electric in cooperation with the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary will sponsor a Boat Safety Inspection Day on Saturday, June 21 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the North/North Parking Lot of Western Electric in North Andover, next to the softball field.

Boat examiners from the local U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary 1-303 will perform a thorough safety inspection on boats belonging to employees, their families and any one else who wishes their boat inspected. All craft passing the inspection will receive a registered Coast Guard Auxiliary sticker which is recognized by the authorities and assures the boat owner that he will not normally be subject to further examination. Should your boat not pass inspection, it is not reported to any authority. You merely do not receive a Coast Guard Auxiliary sticker. The intent of the inspection is to assure that your boat is safe for the water and ultimately protect you.

The Auxiliary encourages taking advantage of this opportunity to prepare for an enjoyable and safe vacation. In the event that you are unable to bring your boat in on the 21st of June, you may contact Vice Commander Fred Butler of Flotilla 1-303 in Andover and he will make arrangements with our Boat Inspectors to have your boat inspected.

plants; and the fruit was called a '33 love apple, Massachusetts Audubon says.

The questionnaire that was to have gone out to elementary school parents Monday, enabling them to speak up for traditional or "open" education programs, has been delayed until September.

Associate Superintendent Harry S. Westcott said the postponement was caused by the closeness of schools closing for the summer.

There were a number of difficulties in producing and distributing the survey in time for a satisfactory return before people leave for summer activities, Westcott said.

In fairness to people on both sides of the issue, he said, he felt it should wait.

The questionnaire was conceived at the June 3 school committee meeting, when a parent took issue with a recent questionnaire sent home to Doherty parents.

Westcott said then he liked the idea of a survey, and set about preparing one to send home with all elementary youngsters in town.

Feedback from various parents and, teachers and administrators, delayed its completion.

do resign, he said, Chairman Frank Griggs may well have to fly back from his summer work in Missouri to make up a quorum of three, along with Elaine Viehmann and David Ahouse.

If two new committeemen are chosen by the selectmen and the remaining school committeemen this summer, Seifert said he would recommend a series of work sessions to introduce them to their jobs quickly.

"I see it as a very cooperative experience," he said, "because that's badly needed."

As far as other school policies are concerned, Seifert said the administration is already locked into what the committee came up with in May, "so we know what we have to do for September."

One of the major personnel changes, he said, will be the hiring of a new business manager to replace Ed Weil, who resigned in March.

The search has been narrowed to four, Seifert said, and he expects to make a recommendation in time for the scheduled July meeting.

Some other staffing changes will be made by September, he said, including the addition of three or four teachers at the secondary school level.

In accordance with school committee policy, however, no new additional personnel will be added to the total roster. Seifert explained that three or four elementary teachers who are resigning or retiring will simply not be replaced, to allow for others at the higher level.

Looking back over the school year just ending, Seifert said he felt it was marked by the administration taking what the elected officials have said should be the direction of the school system, and putting those things into effect.

"I think we have been in the ballpark every year," he said, in terms of carrying out school committee goals policies... even with philosophical changes."

One of the committee's concerns has been achievement, and Seifert predicted that the concentration on basic skills will show up in external testing.

While there has been some confusion with legal matters and all, he said "the delivery system" in Andover school system improves every year."

Teacher morale is not as high as it used to be, he went on, "because of all the controversy and indecision."

But, gave credit to the staff for being able, "to separate personalities and issues from doing their jobs."

He said a tremendous vote of confidence is due the personnel who have implemented Chapter 766 - - namely the core evaluation teams and the supervisor, Pam Kvilekval.

A number of very serious cases have been resolved "quite satisfactorily," by the 766 teams, he said, so central office time spent on them has been very limited.

All in all, Andover schools have received outside recognition in many areas this year, Seifert went on, beginning with athletics and the Super Bowl football team.

"There's no doubt that we have the finest coaching staff in the state," he said. "I'm continually impressed with their record both on and off the field."

Seifert also praised the reading department and the fact that the Andover Reading System had been chosen by the federal government to be disseminated nation-wide under the Right to Read program.

While that won't be ready until fall, he said, a number of publishing companies and other school systems have already come to Andover wanting to copy the program here.

By way of other credits, he said that Lois Haslam, had been selected chairman of an English study committee for the state.

Furthermore, he said, there's a long list of people who have been invited to other systems and to conferences to talk on the work they've done here. Every year, he said, that number increases.

On the less cheerful side, Seifert said this school year has been marked by an increase in outside destruction of the schools. Vandalism, he said, increased at a "rather alarming rate."

For instance, he said, the system spent $18,000 to replace broken windows this year, while the glass bill normally runs around $2 to $3,000.

Associate Superintendent Harry Westcott, at the end of his first school year here, this week called Andover's "the best managed and monitored school system I've worked in."

Westcott, who said this is his seventh school system, said he'd never seen a system where the people in the administrative level know so much about what's going on in their schools.

Temple To Build School In Andover

Plans are currently being made for the building of a religious school and chapel building on Lowell Street in Andover, for Temple Emanuel of Lawrence.

The building will be located on land owned by the Temple opposite property of the Unitarian - Universalist church on Lowell street.

Various committees have been appointed by George Urang, Temple Emanuel president, to bring into operation the decision of the board of governors of the Temple, to establish the religious school beginning with September, 1975.

The school will function under the direct supervision of Mrs. Lois Edelstein the supervising principal together with Rabbi Harry A. Roth of the Temple.

The school will provide for a full religious education, beginning with first grade and continuing through tenth grade at which time students completing the requirements will be confirmed.

While the responsibility for this school will totally evolve upon Temple Emanuel, the religious school classes will be open to all families in the Greater Lawrence area who would be interested in seeing their children attend the school.

The new facility will provide space for Bat Sefer - religious school, and a Bet Midrach - a chapel.

Families interested in obtaining further information regarding these religious facilities are asked to contact the Temple office, 483 Lowell St., Lawrence.

Tapestry Gallery.

The events in and around Boston leading to the outbreak of hostilities and the Revolutionary struggle between the Colonials and the Redcoats will be accurately documented by a diorama sequence entitled "They Nobly Dared." These dioramas as well as a large table-top model of Bunker Hill (on loan from the Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada) are the work of the Military Collectors of New England. This is a group of enthusiasts who collect, cast, and paint military miniatures, or lead soldiers.

A model of the American redoubt or fortification on Bunker Hill made by artists Theodore B. Pitman and Henry H. Brooks is an outstanding example of the painstaking attention to accuracy and detail of the diorama artist. It was commissioned by the First National Bank of Boston and is on loan to the Museum for the Bicentennial.

The reality of war, camp life, and the daily dangers of the 18th century soldier will be recalled by muskets, bayonets, cups, spoons, drums, cannon balls, and campstoves on loan to the MFA from two New England collections. An outstanding collection of powder horns used by those who fought for our country's independence will be among the military memorabilia on view. Colorful flags of the colonies and military regiments will fly high in the Tapestry Gallery.

Just as the dioramas are detailed documentations of the tempestuous battles, a slide-tape production to be screened continuously in the Tapestry Gallery will serve as a living document re-creating the emotional and physical drama of battle. The Brigade of the American Revolution, a group dedicated to re-creating the sights and sounds of the Revolution, has been filmed as they re-enact a drill and mock battle between the Colonials and Redcoats. Uniforms, military equipment, and arms of the type on exhibition have been used by the Brigade.

Narration of the drama, "In Their Own Words," provided by the common soldier, women, Europeans viewing the Revolution, Loyalists, and townspeople of Boston under siege. "Yankee Doodle," and "On the Road to Boston" -- popular songs of the period -- will bring the sound of the life and drum to the MFA.

On Bunker Hill Day, June 17 at 7:30 p.m. at the Sudbury Ancient Companies of Militia and Minute, and the Fife and Drum Corps of Sudbury will present a dramatic salute to Those Valiant Upstarts. They will perform military music and musket firing by Minutemen of the Revolutionary War in a free program on the Huntington Avenue lawn to end at sundown.

Chairman of the North Andover Board of Appeals, Frank Serio Jr. presented Dr. Eugene Beliveau, D.D. with a plaque in grateful recognition for his many years of service as a board of appeal's member at their recent meeting. Dr. Beliveau resigned after five years of service. Beliveau thanked the board and stated it's been a stimulating and interesting experience.

On the agenda was a discussion by the board concerning the request of Charles Construction Company for a Zoning Variance in order to change the Sutton Mill Weave Building into a "Sutton Shopping Mall."

The building, located at 290 Sutton St., is zoned for industrial use and retail business is prohibited.

Charles Matses, owner of the property plans to use the building for office space, light manufacturing and a delicatessen.

The board will reach a decision July 8.

Planning Board member Paul Lamprey suggested that the planning board be sent a set of the proposed plans. Chairman Serio agreed.

Atty. Thomas Cargill and William Dorman of the Ardon Farm Realty Trust of Boxford were present at the meeting. Cargill and Dorman are owners of 10 acres of land that is located mostly in North Andover and a small section is located in Boxford. They requested a variance to develop this 10 acres into two house lots. The land does not have the required frontage.

There is no access road to the lots from North Andover. The road to the North Andover town line is about a mile through Boxford land.

Atty. Cargill stated that the children from the dwelling could be privately bused through Boxford to the nearest North Andover school bus stop, or they could attend the Boxford School system and North Andover would pay the tuition.

Building Inspector Charles Foster stated that there would be no way to get to the land bordering the back of the lots. He suggested a 50 foot right of way would keep the old Forest Street Road open and provide for any future sub-division for the back land.

The question was asked would the Boxford Fire Department respond to a fire where they are so close to the area. Cargill stated that the town fire departments have a reciprocal agreement.

Board of appeals member James Noble stated that before a decision could be reached the matter should be discussed with the North Andover fire department, the police department and the school department. Board members agreed.

The Board of Appeals will meet again with Dorman and Cargill Aug. 1.

WE'VE GOT WHAT YOU NEED... the proven radial.

If you need tires, come in and let us tell you about the original steel-belted radial... Michelin 'X'. You'll be glad you did.

40,000 MILE WARRANTY

*Michelin's Warranty for X Radial Highway Passenger Tire shown here covers tread life, normal road hazards (excluding repairable punctures) and defects in workmanship and materials for 40,000 miles, when tire is used on passenger vehicles in normal service in continental United States, except Alaska. Credit or refund (at Michelin's option) is equal to current actual selling price multiplied by percentage of warranted mileage not run on tire.

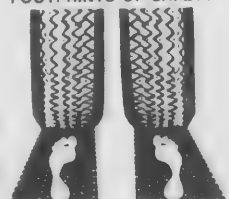

10% Gas Savings

Because of the lower rolling resistance of Michelin 'X' radials over conventional bias ply tires, you might get as much as 10% savings over your present gas consumption. This means more miles per gallon of gas. It means extra dollars in your pocket.

Built with exclusive triple pattern tread for powerful road grip, precise cornering and straight-line stability.

Standard equipment for the past two years on many high performance imported sports cars... now available for the first time as replacement tires.

FOOTPRINTS OF SAFETY

Two asymmetric treads on the same axle, give balance, speed, stability just like your own footprints.

Selectmen Informed Of School Suit

Town Counsel Arnold Salisbury, informed the North Andover selectmen, by letter, that a complaint has been filed with the Superior Court against the town by fourteen persons, asking restoration of the $110,000 cut from the school budget by town meeting.

Salisbury stated that of the fourteen petitioners all but two are employees of the school department and the two not in this classification are related to teachers in the system.

Since the school committee is autonomous in definite fiscal matters, Salisbury said, "I cannot truly forecast that the town will win the case." However he said he has confidence that the "alleged deficit in the appropriation made for school purposes by the 1975 Town Meeting will be shown to be somewhat less than that alleged by the complaint."

Also if the court should assess the town a 25 per cent penalty the law provides that the money be held by the town and be applied to the school budget for the following year.

Selectmen Joseph Guthrie stated he has supported the school budget. The school committee is an elected board of competent people that know the needs of the school system. Guthrie took issue with the method that Salisbury handled the budget article at the town meeting. "It was a fiasco" said Guthrie. He stated he believed that the article would have been passed if it had been handled differently at the town meeting and the town would not find itself in this situation.

Town counsel also informed the selectmen he has filed a complaint in the Essex Superior Court for a review of the Housing Appeals Committee decision concerning their approval of the Archdiocese low and moderate income housing to be built on Waverly Road.

Since the Housing Appeals Committee has sixty days to answer, Salisbury stated, he does not foresee any court action before September.

The annual summer organ recital series at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall continues with the fourth program in the series, which will be presented by Thomas Murray, organist, on Wednesday evening, June 25, at 8:30.

Mr. Murray is Organist - Choirmaster of the Cathedral Church of St. Paul in Boston. Stars Of Summer
Museum Program

From the familiar, old Big Dipper to the new, manmade star, Skylab, the stars of summer are identified in a forthcoming program at the Hayden planetarium of Boston's Museum of Science.

Running through June 23, the program invites Museum visitors to take a night's journey, from Boston to the New England countryside, to the southern hemisphere, and back again.

Although city lights and pollution limit visibility locally, the Big Bear, Big Dipper, and Venus, which reaches its maximum brightness June 21, are easily distinguishable. In addition, the stars Vega, Deneb, and Altair form the so-called Summer Triangle in the southeast evening sky. In the countryside where visibility improves, Aquila the Eagle, Cygnus the Swan, and Scorpius the Scorpion make their appearance. From this vantage point the Milky Way galaxy of which Earth is a part is more clearly seen than at any other time of the year.

The most impressive object in the southern latitudes is the Southern Cross. The kite-shaped constellation is brighter but smaller than its northern counterpart. Below the equator it is also possible to see Alpha Centauri, the nearest star beyond our sun.

As the night wanes, the program moves back to New England for a view of the Perseids meteor shower, which reaches its peak August 12 and 13. Just before sunrise the planets Mars and Jupiter are visible. The Planetarium program presents recent photographs of these planets taken by unmanned spacecraft to contrast their revealing details with the results of telescopic organs are well-known. Mr. Murray's June 25 program will feature the monumental "Sonata, Op. 28" of Edward Elgar, as well as works by Bach, Saint-Saens and Hindemith.

Recitals at the Methuen Hall take place weekly during the summer on Wednesday evenings, with a different organist featured each week. The Hall is conveniently located on Broadway (Route 28), just south of Methuen Square, and is easily accessible from Interstate Route 93. Doors open at 7:30 p.m., and unreserved tickets are available at the door. For further information concerning tickets, program booklets and sustaining memberships, write to Mr. Bert Muller, 595 Massachusetts Avenue, North Andover, Mass. 01845.

The fifth program of the series will be given on Wednesday evening, June 2, when the recitalist will be the young English organist Paul Wright.

photography from Earth. Finally, the orbiting space station, Skylab, crossed the sky. It resembles still another star, but because its progress is known, the Planetarium is able to pinpoint its location for naked eye viewing.

"Stars of Summer" will be followed by the Planetarium's Bicentennial program, "Star Spangled Sky," through Aug. 31.

Atty. DiAdamo On His Own Since 1970

A civil suit against George F. Olesen, John F. Lyons and John G. Wragg for their actions as school committeemen is still planned, but no formal complaints will be filed until later this summer.

Atty. Carmine W. DiAdamo, representing Edward P. Regan, who was removed from his position as assistant superintendent of schools a year ago, said this week that he will probably not begin preparing papers for presentation to the court until early July.

Regan, now in California, intends to pursue the court action despite the resignation of Wragg last October and the announced June 30 resignations of Olesen and Lyons.

Atty. DiAdamo at the moment is attempting to clarify misunderstandings and erroneous reports about him being associated with Town Counsel Alfred S. Daniels and Atty. Fredric S. O'Brien in the practice of law.

DiAdamo said this week that he is a sole practitioner and is in no way associated with either Daniels or O'Brien.

It has been contended that DiAdamo had been associated with the two lawyers at some time and also reported that he was in their office at the time of the secret meetings case brought by Committeeman William L. Lane against the school committee a year ago.

DiAdamo said he was with the law firm of O'Brien and Daniels for a brief time up until March of 1970 when he established his own law practice and office on Lawrence street in Lawrence.

He said he "continues to maintain a cordial professional relationship with the two attorneys as with all other members of the bar in the Greater Lawrence area. I do not meet with them socially or otherwise."

Among the contentions being made by the school committeemen who are resigning due to their objections to the acceptance of Atty. Fredric S. O'Brien as special counsel to the school committee, by a majority of the board, was that DiAdamo was at one time associated with Attys. Daniels and O'Brien.

Reports in other media have also indicated that DiAdamo was associated with town counsel's office at the time of the Lane secret meeting case a year ago.

DiAdamo said Tuesday that his associations with Lane and with Regan has been purely in the area of lawyer-client relationship. He said he is not interested in or affiliated with any political groups or feelings toward educational philosophies.

Regan, removed by a majority vote of the committee a year ago, has informed Atty. DiAdamo that he wishes to pursue the case through the courts, despite the subsequent resignation activity of the three school committeemen. Counsel said that the actual preparation of the case will begin in July.

What Our Readers Say

schools scoring lowest in a uniformly administered standardized test - given a random distribution of student and teaching abilities within the system - is one in fifteen. This indicates the following strong possibilities:

- (1) The I.Q. level of children is not randomly distributed geographically within the Town or
- (2) The capable teachers are not equally distributed among our schools or
- (3) The method of instruction being used in the I.G.E. schools is inferior to that being used in the other schools.

In the first instance in the Andover community the spectrum of socio-economic and/or cultural backgrounds is narrow; so, it is unlikely that all the lower I.Q. children would somehow end up in the South and Shawsheen schools.

In the second instance our School Administration insists that there is a very even distribution of teaching talent in all of our elementary schools. Thus the only remaining variable to explain why these two schools underachieve the rest of the system is the method of instruction. The Shawsheen and South schools are I.G.E. - the other schools are not.

Additionally, we suggest to Dr. Westcott there is other evidence that all may not be well with the I.G.E. philosophy. Littleton, Massachusetts, one of the first communities to adopt I.G.E., system wide, is initiating a fundamental, conventional class option next year in all its elementary schools - the result of widespread parental dissatisfaction with I.G.E. after four years experience. The drive to provide Littleton children with an authentic, traditional educational alternative was spearheaded by a concerned citizens group. In comparison with three prior years of conventional teaching, standardized test scores in Littleton dropped significantly in 11 out of 15 instances after I.G.E. was adopted.

Dr. Westcott further states that he "knows of no hard data that either supports or condemns I.G.E. including the data distributed by M.E.C." - the promoters of the program. Shawsheen parents question the wisdom of instituting such a radically new system in the town of Andover without any substantive data to support the action. Perhaps Dr. Westcott will address himself to this question.

Dr. Westcott says that the majority of scores in the two schools are above the national norms. This is a smoke screen to obscure the poor showing of the two schools within the Andover system (previously noted and also see graphs attached). No studies have been made to show where Andover scores should place in relation to national norms, given the socio-economic backgrounds of our citizens and Andover's per pupil cost expenditures. Such a study may reveal that Andover scores belong in the 80 - 90 percentile. Until such a study is made it is pure rhetoric for an administration to claim sufficiency in performance by reference to test scores that simply exceed national norms.

The present standardized testing administered in Andover is a useful tool for measuring increases or decreases in scholastic performance over consecutive time intervals and for comparisons of different groups taking the same tests. Though educators would have parents believe there is some magical quality attaching to national norms they may be objectives of dubious merit in view of this community's financial commitment to education.

Dr. Westcott's concern for removing someone else's option if a traditional alternative were offered in the Shawsheen school is touching, indeed. It is regrettable that Dr. Westcott was not in Andover to voice his concern when all parental options were removed in toto from the entire system in favor of the so called "open concept" or if you prefer "progressive education" or perhaps I.G.E. It is a matter of record that no consideration whatever was given to parents who may have wished to keep their children in a traditional learning environment. Instead they were locked into the untried progressive experimental programs that have led to educational disaster for so many children nation wide.

Dr. Westcott says he is "at a loss to discern what is meant by 'an authentic, traditional alternative' ". We are surprised at this remark considering the talent and expertise that must accompany the vast array of credentials in the field of education that our school administration possesses.

However, the accompanying descriptive documents furnished by the parents may provide the information he lacks. Traditional alternative learning environments are springing up all over the country in reaction to the declining academic performances of the "new education" experience. Evaluation of data assessing the performance of 31 schools in the Pasadena district of California reveals that the John Marshall Fundamental School out performs the Alternative Open School in six out of seven grades in Math, five out of seven grades in Reading and five out of five grades in Language. Additional materials and information can be provided by the parents if Dr. Westcott's efforts to research the topic from educational sources prove unsuccessful.

Concerned Andover parents welcomed the school committee chairman's instructions to survey the town and determine the magnitude of desire for an alternative structure. It is interesting to note that the school administration's efforts to comply with this request lasted only until the chairman left town for out of state summer employment. The questionnaire that was supposed to have been sent home to parents last Monday has been "indefinitely delayed" due to "administrative difficulties." This delay will insure no prospect of offering a traditional alternative in Andover schools this fall.

The strategy is clear. Since the resignation of the two conservative members of the board becomes effective June 30, the delay will insure that official school board direction to poll the parents will be dissipated. True to form to the last, the school administration has illicitly its final rebuff to the conservative members of the committee. Having been frustrated in their efforts to improve the quality of education in our schools at every turn by administrative opposition and footdragging, it must come as no great surprise.

It is ironic that those who piously espouse "liberalism" in education - those who preach the philosophy of "doing your own thing" in our schools - are the first to trample the rights of those who dissent from the so called "progressive education" wisdom. By polling the community and offering to provide an alternative learning environment, the administration had within their grasp the opportunity to heal wounds and mend fences in the conflict that has split our town in two these past several years.

That the opportunity has now been lost is indeed a tragic commentary on the sincerity of any efforts of our school administration to alleviate this problem.

Preparing Book Sale

Friends of Memorial Hall Library will conduct a book sale in front of the library on Friday and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Here, Mrs. Larry Reeder, Allan Reeder, Jason Reeder and Mrs. Nancy Jacobson examine some of the many used hard cover books and paperbacks which will be offered for sale. Also on sale will be records, prints, postcards and note paper featuring a drawing of Memorial Hall Library done by Andover artist, Beth Rokicki.

the sewer construction. There still remain some agreements to be worked out between the town, Hewlett-Packard and Arkwright-Boston. With the bids on the sewer line, which will connect with the Lawrence trunk line, coming in within the appropriated amount, there will be no need to seek assistance from Arkwright-Boston. Such a request had been considered, if the bids were higher than funds available.

Greenberg and Town Manager J. Maynard Austin were in conference this past week on the overall project and it has been decided to proceed with taking easements by eminent domain for the path of the sewer line.

They have also asked Arkwright-Boston to proceed with the drawing and signing of the covenants with Hewlett-Packard regarding disposition of land around the building. The agreements provide protection for the town greater than that provided under the town's zoning bylaws. There may be some further town meeting action in this regard as the town attempts to strengthen its zoning regulations in conformance with the agreements.

Discussion are also underway regarding the offer by H-P to loan the town the $300,000 interest charges incurred through the bonding required for the sewer line construction.

Still to be worked out is the possible tie-in with Lawrence. If the city decides to dump the backwash water from the filter plant into the Andover line by bringing it across the Merrimack, the alternate bid, which provides for a 54-inch pipe will be required.

Town Manager Austin and city officials were discussing the matter this week and, Lawrence is still considering alternatives.

The city would have to pay some $75,000 for the difference in construction costs should they decide to go this route.

Lawrence is under orders from the Environmental Protection Agency to cease from dumping the backwash water into the Merrimack.

In general, the outlook for the development of West Andover industrially, has become the most optimistic in the past week since the town hammered out agreements and put up the $2.5 million in 1973.

Jeffrey D. Sheehy of Andover, was graduated from Tilton School at its 129th commencement Saturday, May 31.

Sheehy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine P. Sheehy of 241 Lowell St., was among 59 seniors receiving diplomas from the coeducational, central New Hampshire school.

He will attend the University of New Hampshire this fall.

Awarding diplomas was the president of Tilton's Board of Trustees, former CBS newsman and long-time host of TV's "What's My Line," John Charles Daly.

Speaking was U.S. Sen. and one one-time Presidential candidate Edmund S. Muskie (D-Me.), who told graduates not to be "turned off" by politics and politicians because of the Vietnam War.
